HOME STREET PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Foreword

The Manse, 171 Arlington Street,
Winnipeg, December 26th, 1920

To the Members, Adherents, and Friends of Home Street Presbyterian Church.

THIS is a memorable event in our experience as a congregation. We feel to-day the same thrill of joy as God's people of old felt when they viewed the promised land, and God spoke to them in these words: "Ye have not passed this way heretofore."

We are entering upon a new era in our life as a Church. Looking back over the past years we can see how wonderfully God has been leading us forward. Sometimes our faith and resources have been sorely tried, but in confidence we have walked up to the iron gates, and, lo, they have opened before us!

Your Building Committee, under the able leadership of Mr. G. B. Monteith, together with the Joint Boards and our architect, Mr. J. H. G. Russell, have given us a building which is satisfying in every detail, and of which we are all justly proud. In co-operation with our sister Churches in this community we are now better prepared to enter the service of the Kingdom of God.

Let us humbly dedicate this building to the service of God and our fellowmen, and earnestly pray that through its services the homes of the people may become centres of Love and Peace; that the lives of little children may be made more happy in the knowledge of Jesus their Saviour and Friend; that the young men and young women may find wise counsel to keep them on the King's highway of life; that the weary may find rest; the sorrowing comfort; the friendless kind friends; the stranger a warm welcome; the sinful a loving Saviour; and all men true Christian fellowship. Remember this is a call to service, and God expects you to do your part.

Let us resolve to be faithful to the teaching of God's Word, faithful in all our relationships with our fellowmen, faithful to our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, and leave the results with God.

REV. ANDREW RODDAN

Yours sincerely, ANDREW RODDAN.

service Mr. Hogg took suddenly ill while in the pulpit and passed to his eternal reward. Rev. Hugh J. Robertson, B.A., was then called from British Columbia to come and take charge of the mission. Beginning his work there on February, 1907, Mr. Robertson built up a strong congregation, and after nearly two years the mission was raised to the status of a self-sustaining charge. During that period the church was removed to the present site. Mr. Robertson continued to labor there to an ever-growing congregation until March, 1918, when he received a call to John Black Church, East Kildonan. On June 1, 1918, Rev. Andrew Roddan, then assistant at St. Andrew's, was called to the vacancy, and under his ministry the building became inadequate for the work of the congregation, and a new church was planned, and to-day this new church has been opened and dedicated.

THE FIRST CHURCH (COR. ST. MATTHEW'S & HOME)

Home Street Church, like many other of our western churches, was begun as a mission station, the parent church being St. Stephen's Presbyterian Church, of Winnipeg. The Rev. Joseph Hogg, after many years of faithful service in one of the largest congregations in the city (St. Andrew's) took up the work of the mission there on 29th October, 1906.
